Heart Fund Drive For 1964

Tops All Previous Records

Contributions to the 1964 Heart Fund Campaign in Palm Beach and Martin Counties total thus far $194,597. It was announced today by State Rep. Jerry Thomas, Heart Fund chairman.

"This is a record amount raised for the two-county Heart Association," Thomas reported. "All major divisions of the drive have surpassed previous years." Funds are still being received at the Heart office, and it is anticipated that checks and memorial gifts will boost the total by several thousand dollars.

Heart Sunday residential canvasses in the two counties yielded $23,285. Business and professional canvasses raised $6,792. In-plan solicitations had reached $19,433 as of April 15.

The Heart Sunday total included $1,578 from the Glades area, according to Mrs. Guy W. Wood, Jr., of Belle Glade, field representative. Drives were headed by Mrs. James A. 2nd Grinding Season Ends At Glades Sugar House

Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida completed their second successful season Sunday, April 12. The last sugar cane of the 1963-64 crop passed through the mill at 10:45 p. m. amidst the blasts of steam whistles, signaling the close of the season.

7-Mile Glades Road Contract Awarded

The Ruben Construction Company, West Palm Beach, Monday was awarded a contract for improvement of seven miles of Ramie Road in the Glades.

The company submitted a low bid of $83,924 for the job which had been estimated to cost more than $100,000. Ruben was the lowest of five bidders.

In another action, the commission instructed its engineering department to cooperate with the City of Pahokee and the State Road Dept., in completing a sanitary sewer project for the municipality. Commissioner Paul Rardin said that all possible steps be taken to complete the sewer project so that the work can be done at the same time contractors are working on Hardie Ave., along which the sewer lines will be placed.

The board also agreed to buy a privately owned bridge in the Glades for $5,000, a span that will be improved to fit road improvement plans. The span is known as Center Bridge.

Commissioner Rardin in another action, asked that the State Road Department give an opinion as to whether or not a new state law levying a charge for moving equipment over state roads applies to secondary roads.

The county commission learned that it pay the road department a fee for moving equipment over primary roads.

Rardin said the measure applied to secondary roads the commission might find itself paying for the use of roads which the commission built and

Recreation Plans Urged

Representative Emmet Roberts and Mayor LeRoy Williams led a Committee to appear before the Florida Outdoor Recreation Planning committee in Miami, where a brief, along with maps and plans for a long-range development of the Glades and Kraemer islands into a state recreation area were presented.

The plans call for gradual but continual development of both ramps, picnic and camping areas and facilities at the Belle Glade and Martin Counties and at the north end of Kraemer Island.

Widening and deepening of existing channels to facilitate boat traffic through and around the various fishing grounds and for harbor facilities for boats, are a part of the plan.

Camping sites for boy and girl scouts at the north end of Kraemer where sandy beaches are available and royal palm groves are inviting, also are parts of the plan.

Making considerable acreage on Kraemer available to the Everglades Experiment Station for plant breeding purposes as a part of the recommended plan. The potential of an eighteen-hole golf course to road and water traffic-visitors is pointed out, as practical, and continuing.

It is pointed out that the approach is not a "zoo" project. The City of Belle Glade has acquired and is developing Port and camping facilities; the Port of Palm Beach is maintaining and improving port facilities on the City owned land.

The potential of an eighteen-hole golf course for cross-state barge traffic; the citizens of the Community have and are performing works under the planning of the Chamber of Commerce to make pleasure and fishing craft more comfortable in the area.

"JOIN AND HELP US," rather than "We Want," is the spirit of the effort, and it bids fair to be successful.

Attend Convention

Francis L. Harris, of Belle Glade's Glades Tire & Repair firm, flew to Louisville, Kentucky to attend the National Convention of Retiree's, returning home Wednesday.

US Sugar Folks Dance Season End With 3,600 Guests

United States Sugar Corporation celebrated the end of the 1963-64 sugar cane harvest season recently with one of the largest barbecues ever held in Florida.

Barbecued beef and pork, and all the trimmings, was prepared for some 3,600 people which included employees and their families. Cooked in huge pits for over 24 hours prior to the party, the food was served in the company's Cleveland Sugar House.

Long-time employees were also honored through the presentation of service pins. This year's feature was the awarding of a 40-year pin to Walter Murph, an employee in the Bryant mill. Others were recognized for service extending from five to 35 years.

The celebration ended Saturday night with a dance in the local country club with U. S. Sugar picking up the check. Employees danced to a top-flight name band until the wee hours.

Large Turnout Expected At Rally To Welcome Future Florida Governor

A big city-wide turnout is anticipated to be on hand to welcome Senator Bud Dickinson when he arrives here in his 37-foot GM bus Saturday morning, April 18, on his second visit to the Glades since his candidacy for Governor was announced.

The Glades committee for Dickinson has arranged a rally site on main street at the Buick-Seminole Supply corner for the 10 a. m. rally where Dickinson will speak, greet the crowd and answer any questions. Free refreshments and entertainment are planned.

The senator, who represents Palm Beach County's hopes for a modern road system similar to the network of roads in other Florida counties from which a governor has come, will be escorted into the city Saturday morning by a Glades motorcade.

Coming from Pahokee where he will officiate at the joint city's Spring Harvest Festival, the senator will be joined by a host of well-wishers at the 10 a. m. rally. West Palm Beach state road 715 at ten o'clock. All those wishing to join the parade are invited to do so.

Harold Zumpf Will Head PTA

"Americanism vs. Communism" was discussed Monday night at the Junior High P. T. A. meeting by a well-informed group of students, Ron Halbrook, John Caudy, Evelyn Harris and Sharon Motes, with Charles Thompson serving as moderator.

State officers for next year will be installed at the next regular meeting of the PTA Monday, May 11.

Harold Zumpf is the incoming president; Riley Foster, first vice-president; Mrs. Hoke Cooper, second vice-president; Mrs. Howard Payne, recording secretary; Mrs. Donald Williams, treasurer; and Mrs. W. R. Williams.

License Required Some Get Careless Some Don't Care!

Laws and ordinances require license to sell liquor and the state is very strict. The lure of an "easy dollar" cause some to sell liquor after hours from the "hip," some from a car, and some from the kitchen sink.

Selling Alcoholic Beverage During Closed Hours gets attention when proof is available, and the Courts are generally bountiful in bestowing fines. The Belle Glade Police "got a buy" on C. D. Hall and James Cooper and the bonds are $1,000 each.

Joe Goodman faces a charge of "possession" and his bond is also $1,000, but Joe is an ex-cop, so Joe sits and waits. The lure of the "easy dollar" cause some to sell liquor after hours from the "hip," some from a car, and some from the kitchen sink.

Investments Topic For Lions Meeting

At the Lions Club luncheon Wednesday, members were addressed by Stanley Shapiro and Richard Cook of Francis I. Dupont & Co., West Palm Beach. Status of the economy presently and areas of investment were discussed by the two registered representatives. Additionally, the two speakers were asked many questions of interest to club members on investment.

Mr. Shapiro and Mr. Cook have made other talks in the Glades and invite all investment inquiries.

WHERE WERE YOU?

By A PTA Worker

Supposing THE HERALD this week carried an article that last Monday night's PTA meeting started off with the Communist International followed by lectures on mob violence, techniques in infiltration and agitation. Would more parents have been present to voice a protest than the few who did attend the meeting to hear an excellent discussion by five high school seniors on their impressions of the recently installed course on "Americanism vs. Communism."

The best defense against communism is to be informed, a speaker told the crowd.

How can people become informed of the school program and what they can do to help improve the situation if they do not make the effort to come to meetings which really concern their welfare?

It is a tragic commentary on the citizens of Belle Glade that they did not avail themselves of the opportunity Monday night to become better informed and to keep abreast of what is being taught in the schools. Apathy is the most dangerous problem facing our society today.

Last month the P. T. A. groups jointly sponsored a public forum for all five candidates for the Office of County Superintendent of Public Instruction. A fair number of people availed themselves of the opportunity to attend the meeting, but not nearly as many as should have.

There should not have been an empty seat in the cafeteria! Where were you?

The First Cadette Field Day Held At Girl Scout Camp Welaka

Girls of TROOP 264, Belle Glade are shown planting bamboo shoots for their contribution to the service project, at Camp Welaka. 1-r standing are Sharon Hayes, Kathy Morris and Nancy Wolf. Kneeling Winifred Williams and Janet Wolf. (Nancy Stratton not pictured).

The first Cadette Girl Scout council for registration at 9:30 Field Day held at Camp Welaka a. m. Morning was given over to flag ceremony, group song sessions, and the service project which was planting of shrubs and bamboo as part of the long-term landscaping of the camp. Many shovels and hands made short work of planting potted shrubs completely around the neerman lodge, while another group put in a bamboo planting near the riverfront.

Mid-day was free time, and girls made full use of it after lunch for visiting, exploring the camp, or just resting. A wide game wound up the day's activities. This is a game scouts use for demonstrating and learning skills, practicing them, and group competition. Each of the 10 stations of this game was planned and manned by a troop.

Stations were located from the main gate to the riverfront, lodge, and lake, and included such skills as first aid, use of hatchet and knife, knots, waterbottle contest, keenness of nature observation and accuracy in throwing a life buoy.

The contribution of Troop 264 was in supplying the bamboo starts for planting. This was accomplished only through the help of Mr. Wolf and Dr. Allen. It is expected that the eventual uses of this planting will be screening and shade, nature observation, and provision lashing and craft materials.

Birth records maintained at Marineland of Florida show that the new-born porpoise calf, being an air-breathing mammal, will, within ten seconds swim to the surface for its first breath of air.

Superintendent Not Errand Boy, Says Campbell

"If I am elected superintendent of public instruction I will seek return that office to its rightful place of dignity in the Palm Beach County school system," candidate Martin V. Campbell told a Lake Worth audience this

"In the past several years the effect of weakening the overall administrative structure of our school system."

"A school system with a $33 million annual expenditure cannot afford to maintain anything less than a chief administrator fulfilling all of his lawfully prescribed functions," said Campbell.

Presently principal of Boynton Beach Elementary School and formerly superintendent of a large county school system in Alabama Campbell recently commanded considerable attention by blasting what he terms inefficiency and waste in the office of the county school superintendent. In his latest charge he deplored the practice of personnel "moving over the superintendent's head" in school matters.

"Under my administration the letter of the law will be carried out," he said, "and nobody except the administrator will perform duties delegated to him by law."

The most recent challenge by Campbell follows earlier pledges to eliminate extra personnel, to seek means additional to ad valorem taxation to support school expenses, and to obtain state and Federal funds previously ignored to augment the local taxpayer's share of the school support burden.

New Parking Meters On 90 Trial Ave. A

The newest type of parking meters have been installed on north side of Avenue A from Main Street west to Second, on a 90 trial basis, according to report made to the City Commission Monday night.

The meters are the most modern, and each is equipped with an easily manipulated key on its face to allow the depositor to clear the dial, deposit the money and indicate the time allotted.

It is not necessary for an attendant to wind the meters each morning — ease of maintenance is stressed.

For the 3rd time in three years, Fred Lorenzen takes the grueling Atlanta "500" at the wheel of his Ford.

FORD TOTAL PERFORMANCE WINS
ATLANTA "500" FOR 3RD YEAR IN A ROW!

Latest win gives Ford
11 out of last 12
NASCAR 500 milers!

ATLANTA, April 5: In a blazing exhibition of total performance, ace driver Fred Lorenzen piloted his specially modified '64 Ford to a stunning victory in the Atlanta "500" before a cheering crowd of 75,000 spectators.

This victory marks the 11th time that Ford has captured a NASCAR stock car event of 500 miles or more starting in May, 1962.

In the past two years, tough, dependable Ford-built cars have carved out an incredible history of victories in virtually every kind of automotive event possible—from stock car races to economy runs, from rallies to endurance tests.

This is the dramatic way to show that Fords have changed... and the sure way to be certain they keep on changing.

Ford enters special cars in open competition, in addition to its extensive laboratory and test track programs, because competition provides an intensity of testing that no proving ground alone can provide.

The lesson Ford has learned in racing have already led directly to such refinements as a stronger rear axle, streamlined "faithful" styling, better brakes and an improved ignition system.

Because Ford enters open competition, the cars at your Ford Dealer's are stronger, better handling, safer and thrifter in the long run. They're built for total performance.

Babson's Post-Easter Message

With the rebirth of spring and the hope of Easter still in our hearts, it is good time to ask what is wrong with this world—and with ourselves. Why is our nation so beset by scandal and injustice, the international scene so blackened with tension and distrust, and even open hatred?

WHERE HAS RELIGION GONE?

I have long predicted that we would never be able to realize fully the great blessings of civilization unless we all worked for real spiritual renewal. Religious faith is the driving force of our very existence; without it there can be no true or lasting peace on the earth. Why are not the words of Jesus put into practice in our everyday life, both social and political? He preached repentance and forgiveness; His prayers were not those of habit, but petitions springing from His deepest inner impulses.

The followers of Jesus during His lifetime were taught to lead lives of service and self-sacrifice. His one basic principle of action was that men must love one another; He believed in the intrinsic worth of every human being. In His day He was looked upon as unconventional and uncompromising, with His immovable faith in God and His concern for the ultimate goodness of mankind. Every devoted religious person is supposed to agree to this doctrine, — and act and live accordingly. But the condition of even the Christian world does not bear this out today.

LOOKING TOWARD ELECTIONS

It seems to me, as we move toward voting day in November, that the most important questions for us to answer are: "Is the religion of Jesus something for us to live by? Is it worth being kept vitally alive? Is it something to guide a Presidential Candidate?" Many people who do not as a rule concentrate much on religion are starting to wonder how many of our political troubles come from neglect of the Spirit. They are somewhat disturbed by the Supreme Court's decision against prayers in the nation's schools.

Remembering back a quarter-century to the New York World's Fair, designed to give us a "Glimpse Of Tomorrow," I cannot recall any emphasis whatsoever on religious themes. The Fair showed super-airports, super-skyscrapers, super-highways, and just about super-everything-else. But I do not remember seeing one single church. Now the new World's Fair is being prepared; the papers and magazines are full of fascinating projects. But here again I have noted only occasional reference to church presentations, but all important emphasis on materialistic advances.

SPIRITUAL REAWAKENING NEEDED

I am convinced that one thing, above all others, is needed to save this old world of ours: A spiritual rebirth such as that which Saul of Tarsus experienced. You will recall how, when he was mercilessly persecuting the followers of Jesus, a sudden light and a power from above descended upon him. The same sort of thing has taken hold of every GREAT leader in history. Before I go to the polls this November to vote for a President, I want to know which candidates are men who really pray. My first consideration will be, "Is he a man of the Spirit?" Those who know their Biblical history as they should will remember that Saul of Tarsus, through love, was transformed into Paul. As a result the regeneration of Europe began; the foundations of a new civilization were laid.

PRACTICAL, NOT VISIONARY

As I see it, we are caught today in the middle of a vast struggle between a temporal, materialistic way of life and the world of the Spirit. Since we cannot successfully fight Godlessness with Godlessness, we must first save ourselves by working toward a great "spiritual revival." I cannot agree with those who think that science and technology can ultimately solve all our problems. The freedom — both social and political — for which we strive is a thing of the Spirit, not a thing of the Mind. If there is to be any world of tomorrow, we must all work toward a world-wide spiritual reawakening.

W. J. (Billy) Jeffries Complimented

A resolution was passed at the last landowners meeting of the South Florida Conservancy District, W. J. (Billy) Jeffries for his "long, capable and devoted service to this district," as follows:

RESOLVED, that the Board of Supervisors of South Florida Conservancy District in regular meeting assemble take this formal action in recognition of the long, capable and devoted service of W. M. Jeffries to this district.

Mr. Jeffries began his work with the District on September 16, 1928 as pump operator. He served as pump operator until May 23, 1938, at which time he was appointed Acting Secretary-Treasurer in the absence of Earl Wakesfield. Mr. Jeffries was elected Secretary-Treasurer of the District on March 14, 1939. He was elected General Manager and Supervisor of the District on August 7, 1942 and since that time, until his resignation on February 29, 1964, Mr. Jeffries served the District as Secretary-Treasurer and General Manager.

"During these thirty-six years the welfare of this District has been the chief concern. The history of this District is intertwined with the life work of Mr. Jeffries. He entered the employment of this District when it was still suffering from the effects of the boom. He struck with the District through the depression and insolvency and continued in office to see the debts of the District paid and its affairs put on a sound basis."

"Mr. Jeffries' quiet and unassuming personality and efficient manner have contributed largely to the accomplishments of this District. His health which has compelled Mr. Jeffries to retire is sincerely regretted. The officers of the District are joined by all employees of the District, as well as the landowners in the District at whose instance this resolution has been prepared and is being adopted, in wishing Mr. Jeffries many happy years of well-earned retirement."

UNCLE DAN from DOOLIE says:

Dear Mister Editor:

I was reading in the papers here a while back where a fellow named H. L. Taylor, that is in the Kentucky legislature put a bill in the hopper to make all doctors write their prescriptions in plain English so the patient would know what he was getting and what he was taking.

I don't know how he come out with his bill but it wouldn't do no good. Man and boy, I ain't never saw a doctor's prescription that could be deciphered by a computing machine. I remember back during the war getting a prescription from my doctor and taking it by the country store after I had it filled. Some of the fellows figured it was wrote in English, some said it was in Greek, some claimed it was Latin, and Clew Webster, that finished the 8th grade and is our outstanding scholar, allowed as how it was in all three tongues.

And you probable recollect about the fellow that went to his doctor for a checkup and the doctor give him a prescription. He put it in his card-case and fergot to take it. Ever morning for two year he showed it to the driver for a bus pass to work. Twict it got him in the picture show, onct in the baseball park, and onct in a high school football game. He got a raise at the factory where he was working by showing it as a note from the boss to the fellow that kept the books. One day he fergot and left it on the mantle piece at home and his daughter picked it up and played it on the piano and won a scholarship with it to some music college.

They ain't nobody, Mister Editor, but a druggist that can read a doctor's prescription, no matter what language it is wrote

In Florida... at a picnic, beer is a natural

When you're relaxing at your favorite outdoor beauty spot with friends or family, and your thirst's whetted by fresh air and exercise—that's the ideal time for a cool, refreshing glass of beer. In fact, you can name your recreation—swimming, fishing, or just watching TV—and chances are nothing in the world fits it quite as well as beer.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasant reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but a important one, of those personal freedoms.

In Florida...beer goes with fun, with relaxation

No Current Deficit In State's Revenue

Florida's income has caught up with its spending for the first time since last summer and the state's general revenue fund is now operating in the black.

State Comptroller Ray Green reported that the $35 million borrowed for general revenue, from idle trust funds has been repaid in full.

The state's tax revenues reach a peak each March as several big one-year taxes are collected then. But the cash balance melts away each summer as the state's expenses surpass the revenue. Then, state officials must transfer money from the trust funds to the general revenue fund to keep the cash balance at an operational level.

Mrs. Jane Evans and Mrs. Joan Rabin Levy are each inviting oldtimers and especially newcomers to their homes Thursday to meet John and Inez and "have a cup" with them.

Mrs. Evans' home at the corner of NW Avenue "E" and the schoolhouse (217 NW Ave. E) will welcome you, old-timers and newcomers, 10 to 11 a. m. Thursday.

Mrs. Levy will hold open house from 2 to 4 p. m. at her home, 725 S. E. First Street, newcomers and friends.
